

Sheri Salata

Sheri Salata, former Executive Producer of The Oprah Winfrey Show, Co-President of Harpo Studios and OWN, is an award winning storyteller and an inspirational transformation guide.

Sheri began her career with Oprah Winfrey, the most celebrated woman in media, as an entry level promotions producer and ultimately rose to helm the strategic and creative direction of the most renowned talk show in television history. Leading an Emmy award-winning team, Sheri touched the lives of millions around the world as they broke cultural barriers and advanced the show's mission of enlightenment and understanding. Sheri-who Arianna Huffington once described as "the visionary behind the visionary"- also appeared regularly in the acclaimed docu-series, Season 25: Oprah Behind the Scenes, chronicling the historic final season.

Sheri's memoir, The Beautiful No: And Other Tales of Trial, Transcendence and Transformation is an Amazon Editor's Choice Best Memoir and an Apple Must-Listen audio book. Sheri has been named one of Fast Company's 100 Most Creative People in Business, The Hollywood Reporter's Women in Entertainment Power 100 and a Feminist Press Power Award Winner.

Sheri's 12 week transformational digital experience ~ The Course ~ Change Your Story | Change Your Life~ has been called an emotional, entertaining, profoundly intimate; wildly life-changing journey. She is also the founder + CEO of The Support System, a private membership platform for women who are re-imagining their lives to manifest all of their possibilities.

Sheri makes her home in the Napa Valley dreaming up what's next as she strolls through her gardens with Dolly and Buzz the Wonder Boy.
